

CITY TREASURER
WILL QUIT OFFICE

Understood that Samuel H. Amick Will File His Resignation with the Council Tomorrow Night.

BOOKS IN TANGLED CONDITION

Difference of $633 Found in His Accounts in Recent Examination By State Accountants.

Samuel H. Amick, city treasurer of Seymour, will resign his position, according to reports in circulation today. It is understood that the resignation will be presented to the city council at its regular meeting tomorrow night. Mr. Amick has held the office since January, 1918, having been elected at the previous fall election.

The expected resignation is the result of findings which were made recently by James D. Smith and Edward E. Remy, field examiners from the state board of accounts, who checked up the records in the various departments of the city government. The examiners reported a difference of $633 in the accounts of the city treasurer. The meeting of the council tomorrow night will be the first that has been held since the official report of the examiners was received by the city.

Mr. Amick was elected on the republican ticket and the Republican members of the council who are in majority, are known to have expressed the belief that a change ought to be made in the office. Definite action, however, was postponed until the official report was received from the state board of accounts. Mr. Amick, however, it is understood, decided to file his resignation on his own initiative and the formal action will be taken tomorrow night, it is stated.

Under the law the mayor has the authority to fill any vacancy that may exist in the city government. So far as known Mayor Burkart has not reached any decision as to who Mr. Amick's successor will be. The appointment by the mayor will have to be confirmed by the council, the law provides.

A suggestion has been made that the city treasurer's office be abolished altogether and that the work which is now done by that office be turned over to the city clerk. At the last session of the legislature a law was enacted which provided that any city council may abolish the office of city treasurer, if it so desires, but must take such action before any candidate is nominated for the place. There was some talk of this action during the last campaign but the nominations were made by both parties before the law went into effect. It is pointed out by those who favor the elimination of the office that this would be a good time to effect the combination of the two departments. Those who are opposed to the plan declare that one office serves as a check against the other, as the records in the two departments are practically the same. Whether or not the office will be abolished will be determined later and it may come before the council tomorrow night.

It is understood that Mr. Amick intends to move to Indianapolis where he has secured employment.

The snowfall today, while it did not amount to much, was the heaviest of the season. The clouds, however, soon cleared away and a rising temperature with clear skies made a quick change for the afternoon.

Mrs. Frank Platter and Emerson Hopewell were called to Hillsboro, Ohio, today on account of the sickness of Mrs. Platter's mother, Mrs. J. H. Hopewell.

Andrew Speckner, of Jennings county, who has recently received his honorable discharge from military service, was in Seymour today.

W. J. Rumbley, North Poplar street, who has been sick for some time, is no better.

Mrs. Harvey Lewis and children, who reside near Paris Crossing, are all ill with Spanish influenza.

CLOTHING SHIPPED TO CAMP SHERMAN

Wearing Apparel Thrown by Soldiers from Burning Railroad Coach Gathered Up Along Track.

ORIGIN OF FIRE A MYSTERY

Flames Believed to Have Started in Pile of Linens in Rear Vestibule—Dining Car Damaged.

The clothing, blankets and other articles which were thrown by soldiers from the windows of the burning railroad coach on eastbound Baltimore & Ohio passenger train No. 2 late Monday afternoon, were gathered up by company employees and shipped to Camp Sherman, O., where most of the soldiers went into camp. The men were enroute from Camp Logan, Tex., to Camp Sherman, O., and the Columbus Ohio Barracks for discharge.

The fire is one of the most unusual that the local fire department has ever combatted. The flames were discovered in the rear vestibule of the coach which was the last on the train, about five miles west of here. It is believed that they started in a stack of soiled linens which had been piled in the vestibule by the porter. A lighted cigarette stub or match was probably the cause. The coach was a tourist car and was constructed of wood with cane seats. The interior of the coach burned rapidly and by the time that the train had reached Hagersmen's crossing two miles west

REYNOLDS FUNERAL TO BE HELD WEDNESDAY

Well Known Tampico Resident Dead After Illness of Several Months.

The death of William E. Reynolds occurred at 1 o'clock Monday morning at his home in Tampico after a lingering illness of tuberculosis. He had been in declining health for several years but his condition grew gradually worse after an operation at Sellersburg last spring. Mr. Reynolds was born in 1867 at Tampico where he has since made his home. He was proprietor of the Reynolds Grocery store at that place and made his home with his sister, Mrs. Jennie Rucker.

Mr. Reynolds is survived by four brothers, Rev. Jesse Reynolds, of Flora, Ill., Joseph and Charles Reynolds, of Tampico, W. H. Reynolds, of Seymour, and four sisters, Mrs. Anna Long, of Big Point Miss., Mrs. Lydia Warner, of Deputy, Mrs. Emma Gaiter, of Little York, and Mrs. Jennie Rucker, with whom he made him home.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock from the Tampico Christian church in charge of Rev. Dugan, of Franklin. Burial will take place at the Russel Chapel cemetery.

Quota for Knitted Goods Needed to Be Received Soon and Work Will Continue.

Hereafter the Red Cross work shop will be open on Monday afternoons only, to receive any knitted articles or any unfinished garments that are out at this time. The work at the room will be continued despite the close of the war. Mrs. Lynne Dobbins, a member of the knitting committee, will receive in a short time a quota for knitted goods needed and work will be started on it at once. The articles needed yet are children's mufflers, sweaters, shawls and stockings.

Mrs. K. B. Shields, chairman of the work on garments, will also receive a quota for garments needed for use among the homeless Belgian and French peoples. As soon as these quotas are received a call for workers will be given to the women of Seymour. The room will be closed except on Monday afternoons until these quotas are received. A shipment was made yesterday of all the finished work on hand.

MANY CONCERNS
MAKE INQUIRIES

Propositions Will Be Presented at Regular Meeting of Chamber of Commerce Thursday Night.

A. W. McKEAND WILL SPEAK

One of Most Interesting and Important Sessions of New Organization in Prospect.

Thursday night, February 13, is the time for the regularly appointed semi-monthly meeting night for the Seymour Chamber of Commerce. The meeting will be held in the council room of the city hall and it is urgently requested that all members and all prospective members attend.

Important developments in regard to the application for location in Seymour of certain factories will be placed before the membership it is stated. Recently, C. H. Weithoff, president of the chamber of commerce, has been asked by a glue factory for information relative to locating in this city. The management of another factory of entirely different character that carries a daily pay roll of over $1,000 and employed skilled labor, has requested that the matter of location here be brought before the meeting Thursday evening. It is stated that the business before the organization is of immediate interest to every farmer, railroad man and business man in and around Seymour. Since the membership drive that was inaugurated recently the roster of the new organization shows over 200 names.

That the meeting Thursday evening is the first one to be held since the new names have been added to the list, conveys the idea that it will be memorable from the standpoint of added membership, and also from the fact that the organization has immediately entered a big field of business interest for Seymour and that A. W. McKeand, state organizer, has offered to address the assembly at that time.

The local organization has had offers of assistance in organization from both the Columbus and Indianapolis chambers of commerce while numerous other like organizations throughout the state have sent words of compliment. The publicity committee is now working on an advertisement that will carry information concerning the new association to every state in the union. The speed with which the organization has come into prominence throughout the state augurs an inestimable amount of good it may do for Seymour.

CARPENTERS' BROTHERHOOD
WANT $1 A DAY INCREASE

Leaders Declare Willingness to Submit Matter to War Labor Board.

By United Press. New York, February 11.—A sympathetic strike involving thousands of workers employed on contracts of the building trades employers association throughout the country has been called for today, according to William Hutcheson, president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners.

The exact number of men scheduled to walk out cannot be estimated, but Detroit, New Orleans, Terre Haute, Cleveland, Chicago, Columbus and San Francisco are some of the cities that will be affected, Hutcheson said.

The striking carpenters are seeking "a dollar a day" increase and have declared their willingness to submit their demand to the war labor board, Hutcheson said. The employers have refused to submit arbitration or deal with the workers either directly or indirectly, while the strike is in progress, he stated.

KING GEORGE PLEASED WITH LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Commends the Principle Adopted by Peace Delegates, in Opening Parliament Today.

By United Press. London, February 11.—King George, opening parliament this afternoon, expressed his desire that an understanding between Great Britain should increase and that the two countries should act "together in the future." The king urged fulfillment of the government's pledges to the trades unions, a large increase in housing accommodations and provisions or turning land over to soldiers. He also urged a bill "preventing unfair competition by the sale of imported goods below the selling price where they are produced."

He recommended introduction of a bill for constitutional reform in India. "I rejoice particularly that the peace delegates have agreed to accept the principle of the league of nations, for through their acceptance I see the only hope of saving mankind from recurrence of the scourge of war," said the king.

MEN'S BIBLE CLASS OF CHRISTIAN CHURCH MEETS

Interesting Address on "Brotherhood" Given by The Rev. J. T. Due.

The men's Bible class of the Central Christian church met at the church parlors Monday night in accordance with the new custom recently installed of meeting every second Monday night of each month. Rev. J. T. Due addressed the assembly on "Brotherhood" and F. W. Wesner made a general talk on the growth of religion and the proper attitude a family man should take towards church duties. In one part of his speech he pointed out that the various religious denominations were and should be, growing closer together in the realization of the fact that they were all working for the same ends.

Following these speeches four minute talks were made by a number of the men present. A discussion of the business phase of the meeting was considered and complete arrangements were made for the regular semi-monthly meetings.

WILSON INTENDS TO LEAVE FRIDAY

Presidential Party Preparing to Depart from Paris, Preparatory to Voyage to U. S.

WORK ON LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Belgian Delegates to Meet with Economic Council to Discuss Reparation for Damages.

By United Press. Paris, February 11.—President Wilson planned to leave Friday for Brest, preparatory to sailing for the United States. However, his steamer may not leave before Sunday. The President's party will include Earl Reading, French Ambassador Jusserand, Italian Ambassador Celleri and Franklin Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy.

The peace settlement need not wait for the establishment of a league of nations inasmuch as it is not the league's business to determine conditions of peace. Foreign Secretary Balfour declared in an interview with British and American correspondents.

Balfour said that no one could tell exactly when the peace would be signed. Asked specifically if he thought it would be concluded by April 1, he replied that he believed that date was rather over-optimistic. In reply to a question as to how Germany can pay indemnities if she is not allowed to recuperate her industries, he said that Germany's recuperation should not be at the expense of France but that it is nobody's interest that Germany should be a derelict nation.

The league of nations constitution was to be read at today's session of the committee of which Wilson is chairman. During the afternoon the President was to meet with the supreme war council, when Belgian delegates were to discuss the plans of the Germans to destroy Belgium. The matter will be referred to the supreme economic council for handling in connection with the indemnities and armistice provisions. The war council was also expected to consider plans for further military demonstrations, such as occupation

President of National Council of Women So Decrees on Commenting on Senate Vote.

By United Press. Chicago, February 11.—"I was not surprised at the outcome in view of the tactics suffragettes in Washington have seen fit to use. Until common sense methods are used the question will meet the same fate." That was the comment today by Mrs. Philip North Moore, of St. Louis, president of the national council of women, regarding the defeat of the suffrage amendment by the senate yesterday.

"Of course, we will have to work even harder," Mrs. Moore declared, "to overcome the harm done suffrage by women who picket at the capital and burn the president's effigy."

JACKSON COUNTY
PETITION OFFERED

Members of Lutheran Church in Driftwood Township Are Opposed to The Lowe Measure.

QUESTION UP IN THE HOUSE

Members in Both Houses Demand Committee Make Immediate Report On Bill.

By United Press. Indianapolis, February 11.—Demand or action on the bill repealing the law which allows teaching of German in grade schools was made in the senate today. Senator Negley and Representative Lowe introduced bills with this purpose, the house passing the Lowe bill and the senate the Negley bill, during the first days of the session, but since then have been inactive.

Senator Duffy made a motion today to take the Lowe bill from the committee on education of which Senator Kline is chairman. Kline objected, declaring that members of the committee are not pro-German and that the bill would be acted upon shortly. He announced that the educational committee of the house and senate will confer tonight on the bills and that there will be a committee report immediately after the conference. On this information the senate agreed to hold up action on the Duffy motion.

Representative Frank Butler presented a petition in the house today signed by members of the Evangelical Lutheran church of Driftwood township, Jackson county, against the Lowe bill which would prevent the teaching of any subject in grade schools in a foreign language other than the language itself. The petitioners said that German was used in the parochial schools only in teaching religion and demanded that the legislature keep "its hands off religion."

Charges that the railroad committee of the house was strongly biased in favor of legislation for the interests of railroad companies, were made in the house by Representative Barker. He declares that many members of the committee were employed by railroads.

The trouble started when the committee reported the bill introduced by Barker providing that railroads must pay two-thirds of the cost of tunneling under their rails when they construct a line through property, and the property owner one third.

A majority report favored killing the bill and the minority recommended passage. After Barker made his attack, the house adopted the report advocating passage.

MARRIED MEN WIN BOWLING
MATCH FROM SINGLE MEN

Capt. Otto Ahlbrand's Team Awarded Laurels in Hard Fought Series Last Night.

The married men's bowling team of the Lutheran club won hands down from the single men's quintet in a hard fought series last night. The single men have made various explanations for the outcome of the match but the victors say the cause is obvious—superior playing. The friendly rivalry that entered into the games was a happy feature of the evening's struggle. The single men have made another challenge which was promptly accepted.

Otto Ahlbrand was the captain of the victorious team. His players were Albert Wilde, Will Grelle, Eph Ahlbrand and Frank Aufenberg. Arthur Wilde captained the single men's team composed of Lawrence Kasting, John Rodert and Harry Steinker.

The married men declared that the score card was too small to record the complete totals, but the marginal figures indicate that the odds were about 100 points in each game in their favor, they say.

The tribute paid by Senator Lodge at the remarkable Roosevelt memorial service in the house of representatives in Washington Sunday is worthy of reprint:

"A tower is fallen, a star is set! Alas! Alas! for Celin."

Steam Pressing Preserves the Fabric of Woolens

Our method of pressing clothes by steam is such that the fabric of the woolens is preserved, the colors are brightened and the cloth is given a firmness that is found in new materials. It has been proved that proper pressing and cleaning by the right methods adds to the wearing qualities of the cloth. Money that is spent for pressing is well spent. It is economy and at the same time it adds to the appearance of the suit or dress. It is because our methods are so satisfactory that our business is growing by such leaps and bounds. Satisfaction is guaranteed.

the homes. The pulpit found in his life a text for sermons. The judge on the bench, the child at school alike paused for a moment conscious of a loss. The cry of sorrow came from men and women of all conditions high and low, rich and poor, from the learned and the ignorant, from the multitude who had loved and followed him, and from those who had opposed and resisted him. The newspapers pushed aside the absorbing reports of the events of these fateful days and gave pages to the man who had died.

"Flashed beneath the ocean and through the air went the announcement of Theodore Roosevelt's death, and back came a world-wide response from courts and cabinets, from press and people in other and far-distant lands. Through it all ran a golden thread of personal feeling which gleams so rarely in the somber formalism of public grief. It would seem that here was a man, a private citizen, conspicuous by no office with no glitter of power about him, no ability to reward or punish, gone from earthly life, who must have been unusual even among the leaders of men, and who thus demands our serious consideration."

$96,000 SIDE LINE.

The hunting of wild animals for their pelts is frequently an agricultural side line that is productive of small profit. The most extensive farmer in the world, the United States department of agriculture, does not overlook this means of revenue. The department received a total of $96,000 last year from the sale of wild animal skins taken from the wilds of the west. The animals were not killed for their pelts, however, but as a means of protecting sheep and other stock.

The predatory-animal extermination work is done by the bureau of biological survey of the department of agriculture. Expert hunters and trappers are employed. The skins of all the animals they capture or kill must be sold and the money turned into the United States treasury. Nor are the hunters or trappers permitted to accept bounties. But there is not the same temptation in that respect that there used to be, for the government hunters and trappers have been "on the job" their work has been so obviously successful that the States either already have done away with the old bounty system or are planning to do so. The money formerly paid out in bounties is being appropriated in many States for co-operative work with the department of agriculture, with manifold better results as to number of predatory animals destroyed.

A train load of trouble making foreigners, most of whom were from the western coast cities, passed through Chicago yesterday enroute to eastern ports where they will be deported. This is a big country, but it is far too small for that class of disturbers who have no intention of becoming good citizens and whose efforts are in the direction of destructive work rather than for constructive government. A glance at the names of those who are held responsible for the disturbances in this country and in Great Britain are the kind that are almost unpronounceable to English speaking people. The American believes in improving his conditions and his surroundings, but he insists upon doing it in a business like way. He appreciates the fact that if the fundamentals of our government are destroyed by bolshevism or some other kind of a "ism" his aspirations cannot be reached. Law and order are essential to any great movement. Russia has never advanced because of the lack of order and organization. The United States welcomes freedom of expression but Americans insist that the expressions must be constructively American. If Russia wants to practice bolshevism it is no concern of ours. But Russia must not destroy American opportunity. So long as Russia wants bolshevism that is a good place to send bolshevists.

The late James P. Polk, who recently died at Greenwood, remembered the village in a substantial way when he disposed of his wealth. He left a substantial sum for the erection and maintenance of the community home to be erected there. The plan of the home is similar to that of the Farmers' Club which was erected here several years ago by the Blish Estate as a memorial to Captain Meedy W. Shields, the founder of Seymour. Doubtless the people of Greenwood and the vicinity will appreciate their community home and will make full use of it in the same way that Jackson county people appreciate and make use of the handsome Farmers' Club building. There is no finer way of remembering the public than by the erection of such useful and handsome buildings designed for general good.

Washington, February 11—Congressmen have been introducing bills to aid discharged American soldiers ever since the armistice was signed. If a tenth of these bills had passed the soldiers would be well looked after. But to date, only one has gone through the house. It allowed enlisted men to retain their uniforms and overcoats gives them a month's pay as a bonus and five cents a mile as a transportation charge.

A dozen or more bills have been introduced covering the pay bonus. They range from one month to six. Among the hundred or more pending

TWO FINED IN CITY COURT ON TRAIN RIDING CHARGE

Indianapolis Man Claimed He Had Been Assaulted and Robbed in Louisville—Soldier Fined.

A discharged infantryman, from Camp Taylor, charged with train riding and intoxication, and a stranger giving his name as, Leo V. Elder, Indianapolis, charged only with train riding, were brought before Major Burkart in police court this morning. The soldier paid his fine and costs of $11, after pleading guilty to both charges, and left the city on west bound passenger train. Elder, who claimed to have been robbed in Louisville, was given the minimum fine of $1 and costs and sent to the county jail.

The two men were taken off north-bound Pennsylvania train Monday night at 8 o'clock by Officer Ruddick and placed in the city jail.

Elder claimed to have been hunting for his father, C. Y. Elder, at Louisville but failing to find him started back to his home in Indianapolis. While crossing the yards near the Louisville station, he says, someone hit him in the face and in the stomach. When he regained consciousness he found that the $5.15 he had in his possession was gone.

The soldier freely admitted he was intoxicated and seemed extremely well pleased to be allowed to pay his fine and depart.

of other strategic points, to insure compliance with the armistice.

Reports circulated yesterday that the peace conference might be moved from Paris because of "obstructionist tactics" from the French press caused the widest comment today. Amazement was expressed in certain French circles that such a thing could be considered.

While Premier Clemenceau subscribes to the league of nations, French newspapers continue their propaganda for a peace settlement on strategic lines. The press is alleged to be pursuing other courses that are highly embarrassing to the conference.

Welcome!

In thousands of homes these days, there's a reunion celebration going on in the kitchen with the return of Valier's Enterprise Flour.

And hosts of good things to eat are coming out of the oven and going onto the table to delight Daddy and the kids. Biscuits that melt in the mouth! Home-made bread that is bread. Cake that looks like fairies made it! Waffles and—but why try?—you can't describe that kind of baking; you have to experience it.

Valier's Enterprise Flour is made to give the highest quality baking results—and it does. It's an ideal in flour-making—always maintained. When it couldn't be maintained due to war milling regulations, it wasn't made at all.

Now it is back—back with the same high quality that thousands of housewives have learned to lean on as their first aid in baking.

If you haven't learned what a joy it is to bake with this superlative flour, start now. Let the grocer send you a sack of Valier's Enterprise today.

This is Valier's popular-priced flour. It has made hosts of friends.

CLOTHING SHIPPED TO CAMP SHERMAN

of here, the fire had gained such headway that a stop was made while the crew tried to extinguish it with chemical extinguishers. All of these were emptied but meanwhile the flames were spreading to the front part of the coach.

The soldiers were reluctant to leave the coach and aided in fighting the fire. When it was realized the flames could not be checked Conductor Howard Brown, who is well known here, ordered a quick run to this city. The fire department was notified and the men worked hard in trying to extinguish the flames. Several lines of hose were run to the train. The coach was at first stopped near the flagmen's shanty, on Chestnut street, and when it was realized that this was in danger the coach was pulled farther east. Later the coach was cut off from the train. The dining car, just ahead, caught fire and was badly damaged. Part of the evening meal which was in course of preparation was burned.

The soldiers did not leave the coach until they saw that its destruction was certain. The fire spread so rapidly that they were unable to pack their suit cases and carry out the blankets and tossed them from the windows. The tracks for two miles west of here were strewn with blankets and other equipment. Some of the soldiers remained in the coach so long that they had difficulty in escaping.

Local railroad men declare that the fire is one of the strangest that they have ever known to break out on a train. It is stated that the rear vestibule was enveloped before any one noticed the flames and by that time the heat was so intense that no one could enter the vestibule. As long as the train was in motion the flames were fanned towards the rear, but as soon as a stop was made the fire spread rapidly throughout the coach due to the varnished wood work and cane seats.

Mrs. Jay C. Smith went to Indianapolis this morning to attend the monthly meeting of the Woman's Baptist Missionary Society of Indiana.

Wm. Willman made a business trip to Columbus this morning.

PORTUGUESE REPUBLICAN FORCES MAY SUCCEED

Lisbon Government Believes Sufficient Troops are Already Available to Meet Demands.

By United Press.

Paris, February 11.—Complete victory for the Portuguese republican forces within a short time was forecast in diplomatic circles here today.

Strong republican forces are gathering in the northern provinces where the monarchists still hold out, while the blockade on the seaport controlled by Royalists is stiffening. The government at Lisbon considers there are enough troops already in the field to handle the situation without calling upon the expeditionary forces.

Harry Elston Discharged.

Harry Elston, cook for a battery of motor artillery at Camp Delrio, Texas, returned to his home here Monday night. He enlisted March 23, 1918, and was sent to Camp Knox for his discharge February 8. Elston was, prior to his enlistment, a cook at the Palace restaurant. He will resume his position at the Palace some time this week. Being a cook Elston was never called out to drill on the hot, dusty, Texas camp ground but still, he says, when he was chewing his allotted portion of Thanksgiving turkey he thanked a little thank that there was an Indiana in the old U. S. A. and that there was a thriving little city called Seymour that he could come back to when hostilities ceased.

FRANCE GIVES AID TO AMERICA

The pouring out of French blood and the enormous financial sacrifices are not the only aid France has given America. We are indebted to the French peasants for a perfect remedy for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments which has not only been marvelously successful over there, but has been equally so over here. The ingredients are imported and put up for sale in this country by Geo. H. Mayr, for many years a leading Chicago chemist, under the name of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by Druggists everywhere.

Are congenital—that is the person was born with them. There is often a flattening of the eyeball, or a shortening which renders seeing difficult.

The muscles of accommodation automatically strive to overcome these defects, which strain the eye and cause all sorts of bodily discomforts.

Nimrod Uses Booze to Make His Bait Lively

Winsted, Conn.—How Kerney Haywood succeeds in catching big strings of fish through the ice when others fishing in the same waters and using the same kind of bait fail has long been a puzzle to local fishermen.

Moved by the prospects of a dry nation, Haywood unfolded the secret of his success. In the pail of water containing the bait fish he places a little John Barleycorn. The spirits make his bait more lively than shiners and chubs used by others, Haywood explained, and the pike, bass and perch cannot help but be attracted.

SIX CLAIM BODY OF "HUBBY"

Philadelphia Coroner Called Upon to Perform Judgment Similar to That of Solomon.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Coroner Knight has been called upon to perform a judgment similar to the one that made Solomon famous in biblical history. Six "widows" have put in claims for the body of Anthony Oster, thirty-four years old, who died in the West Philadelphia Homeopathic hospital on December 26, of injuries received while fighting for one of them.

Each of the "bereaved" emphatically states that Oster was married to her. It is the herculean task of Knight to decide whose claim is legitimate.

It is likely that the body will be given to Mrs. Anna Oster, who says that she was married to Oster 11 years ago and that they had two children. The woman with whom the deceased was living at the time of his death is known as Mrs. Frances Oster. Two "widows" and four children in Lancaster, Pa., and two "widows" and four children in Reading also claim the body.

Oster was killed by Henry Eugene Loomis, a boarder, after Oster accused him of insulting the woman with whom Oster lived.

KILLING SONG PETS IN WEST

Butcher Birds Are Carrying Off Canaries by the Score in California.

San Francisco.—Scores of canaries have been carried away from their cages during the last week by butcherbirds, who by the thousands have taken up their winter abode here in the fastnesses of Suto forest.

The butcherbird is described as a first cousin to the hawk, is about one-quarter the size and possesses a predatory bill. It is his habit to circle high in the sky until his sharp eyes catch sight of a canary as it perches in a cage hung on some veranda. Then, when it is satisfied that its movements are not being watched, it swoops noiselessly down, thrusts its talons and hooked beak through the bars of the cage, pulls the luckless bird from its domicile and flies swiftly away with its prey. Sometimes the butcherbirds seem to be satisfied with the mere killing of the songbirds.

The butcherbirds hibernate each winter in the Suto forest, but their number this year is greater than ever before. In the summer they fly to warmer climates.

GOOSE DIGESTS GOLD

Remains of a $5 Coin Found in Gizzard.

A few days ago the family of C. C. Taylor, of Bellefonte, Pa., decided to feast upon a goose that they had purchased from a farmer. The goose was killed and in preparing it for the oven Mrs. Taylor felt some very hard substance in the fowl's gizzard. Now this aroused her curiosity, and when she cleaned the gizzard she made a close examination and found a piece of yellow metal about the size of a nickel.

Curious to know what it was she took it to the Bellefonte Trust Company where it was decided that it

Why Buy Period Styles in Furniture? BECAUSE:

THAT which has endured through the more and more exacting centuries of the past, is likely to endure through many centuries of the future. Period Furniture has always been regarded as the standard of perfection by discriminating buyers, but until quite recently, only the wealthy could afford this class of goods.

With the adoption of modern perfected methods of manufacture however, high grade furniture which preserves all the characteristic features of the many Periods, was placed within the reach of modest purses. A moderate income can provide for the home, furnishings such as we are going to tell you of in this series of ads—furniture that will not need to be replaced in a few years.

Eliminate uncertainty in the future by acquiring definite knowledge to enable wise purchasing today. The uniform high quality and sturdy workmanship in the lines carried by us insures long service and continued satisfaction.

Who Does the Buying For Your Family?

There is someone in your family who has a big responsibility.

Food to buy for the table; clothes for the children and grown-ups; new household utensils, linen, furniture, books and all the hundred and one little things for which the family income is spent.

In most families, one person does the bulk of the buying. And it is that person's job to see that that the money is well spent—that you all get full value for every cent that goes out.

The success of a family depends on wise buying just as the success of a business does.

Wise buying means intelligent buying. It is necessary to have knowledge of goods and stores.

The best way to get this knowledge is by reading advertisements. They tell you what is new and good. They tell you where and when to buy to advantage.

Not only the person who does the buying but every member of the family should read advertisements. It is the duty of all the others to help the one who does the buying by pointing out advertisements of new goods and giving all the information possible as to tastes and styles and values.

Advertisements are published for your benefit. Make use of them by reading them.

Seaman Discharged.

Seaman Russell Harry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Harry, this city, has been discharged from the navy and has returned to his home here. Seaman Harry formerly attended the local high school. On July 13, last year, he enlisted in the naval service at the recruiting station in Indianapolis and was sent to the Great Lakes for training. On board the U. S. S. Calameres he arrived at a naval station in France where he was stationed from the first of November until the last of January.

SMOTHERING SPELLS

And Dizziness Relieved By Black-Draught, Says Ohio Lady.

Coalton, Ohio.—Mrs. Lucy J. Beatty, of R. F. D. 1, this place, writes: "Some time ago I had a great deal of trouble with my stomach. It seemed there was a hard lump formed in my stomach. This lump was sore and every time I would eat I would feel bloated and pained me terribly. It would seem to come up toward my chest.

I would have smothering spells and feel dizzy. I would start across the floor and would have to sit down. At night I smothered so I couldn't sleep. I would go to bed and wake with a start and feel like I would smother to death... The doctors said it was my age and doctored and doctored, and I didn't get any better. I was almost discouraged so I began to look around for other remedies and while reading the Almanac I decided to try Black-Draught, which I did. I bought two packages and took it regular for awhile and it cured me and I don't have any more trouble of that kind."

If you suffer from stomach and liver troubles, give Theodor's Black-Draught a trial. It has helped thousands of others—why not you? All druggists. NCB-16

Artilleryman Home.

Harry Allen, artilleryman, discharged from Camp McClellan, Feb. 6th, has returned to his home here. Allen was formerly employed by the B. & O. railroad. He enlisted in the artillery service as a cannoneer June 15, 1918. Not long ago he was assigned to a special school for range finders. His outfit was loaded twice for shipment overseas, but each time were ordered held in camp because of increasing influenza cases. At McClellan the number of men who died from influenza probably outnumbered those of any other camp. There was not a board barrack in camp. The men were all quartered in "pup" tents and the damp, chilly atmosphere brought on many cases of pneumonia. Allen will be given his old position with the railroad soon.

Discharged From Navy.

Seaman Karl Niehaus, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Niehaus, South Vine, has received his discharge from the naval service and has returned home. Young Niehaus has been on board a United States Destroyer in foreign waters since December 18. He enlisted as a seaman at Louisville, Ky., August 15, 1918 and with Christopher Schleter was sent to the Great Lakes training station. Niehaus had just returned from Brest, France, when he received his discharge.

REEDUCATION FOR DISABLED SOLDIERS NOT A CHARITY

Government Takes Position It Has Moral Obligation to Assist These Heroes.

Washington, February 11—It has been found after coming in contact with many disabled soldiers and sailors that some of them have the idea that the free trade training placed at their disposal by the government of the United States is a charity proposition, and on that account some of them are inclined to reject it.

It is quite the reverse. The government takes the position that as it called these men in health and strength from their pre-war occupations, the moral duty upon the government is to make restitution as far as possible. The medical authorities do all that is possible to restore the men to health and strength and the government then proceeds to neutralize impairments by specialized education. The abilities that remain to the man are developed to their utmost limit, and the result is that he is able to do some one thing particularly well.

For instance, an infantry man who

Get Rid of That Persistent Cough

Stop that weakening, persistent cough or cold, threatening throat or lung affections, with Eckman's Alternative, the tonic and upbuilder of 20 years' successful use. 80c and $1.50 bottles from druggists, or from ECKMAN LABORATORY, Philadelphia was disabled with his left hand gone, through an amputation following a severe wound, had been a plumber for sixteen years before entering the service. As a plumber needs both his hands, he manifestly could not continue in his former occupation. The federal board for vocational education considered that as a plumber knows all about drains, sinks, leaks and stoppages, and the like, he was good raw material to transform into a sanitary inspector. He is now undergoing that training, being supported by the government at the rate of $65 per month, and when he has finished, a job will be found for him and in addition to his salary, he will get his pay from the war risk insurance bureau.

Another instance is that of the soldier who had been a barber, but from some of the severe hikes in the army developed "flat feet," that is, the arches of his feet became dislocated, making it painful for him to do much walking or to stand any length of time. As a barber knows all about razors, the federal board built on this trade information and the man is now taking a course as an expert razor grinder.

Another instance is that of the first man placed for reeducation by the federal board, a young Greek who had come to this country in 1912. He was violently American, and pre-ally, has filed naturalization papers, and he volunteered in the American army. Being a baker he was put to work doing that which he knew best how to do.

The Haunted Garden.
Rosa Varona did not die. On the contrary, under her lover's care she made so amazingly swift a recovery that improvement was visible from hour to hour; she rallied like a wilted flower under a refreshing rain. It was O'Reilly's presence as much as the nourishing diet provided by his money which effected this marvel, although the certainty that Esteban was alive and safe put added force into her determination to live. Rosa found hope springing up in her breast and one day she caught herself laughing. The marvel of it was unbelievable. O'Reilly was sitting beside her bed of leaves at the time; impulsively she pressed his hands to her lips.
"Such happiness as mine belongs in heaven," she managed to tell him. "Sometimes it frightens me. With you by my side this prison is a paradise and I want for nothing. War, suffering, distress—I can't imagine they longer exist."
"Nevertheless, they do, and Matanzas is anything but a paradise," said he. "We must set about quickly to get out of it."

LUNGS GREW WORSE IN STATE HOSPITAL
Mr. Randall promptly got well at home. Passes strict examination.

"Three years ago I was afflicted with tuberculosis of the lungs. I was finally sent to the State Tuberculosis Hospital at Rockville, Ind., where I remained three months, getting worse all the time, and I persuaded the doctors to let me go home. I was then reduced to 122 pounds, had fever all the time, and was very weak.
"As soon as I got home, I started taking Milks Emulsion. I commenced to improve at once. In a few months, I was back to 180 pounds and had completely regained my health. Since then I have been employed by Valentine & Co., meat packers, and am able to pass the strict medical examination necessary in this line of work, showing I am in perfect health."—Sam Randall, 521 So. 17th St., Terre Haute, Ind.
Hundreds of people just as badly afflicted as Mr. Randall was, tell this same story. Why not try it? If you are not satisfied with the benefit, it costs you nothing.
Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to run-down nervous people, and it has produced amazing results in many cases of tuberculosis of the lungs. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day. It works like magic on coughs and colds.
This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. A truly wonderful medicine for weak, sickly children.
No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions, and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold and guaranteed by C. E. Loertz.

"Escape, you mean? But that is impossible. Asensio can tell you all about that. The Spaniards used to issue passes for the men to go outside the lines in search of food. It was just a trick. They never came back—all of them were killed. Everyone knows better than to try now."
"Nevertheless, we can't stay here much longer." In answer to the girl's puzzled inquiry he explained: "My money is gone—all but a few cents. This is the last of our food and there is no chance of getting more. Jacket has some mysterious source of supply and he manages to bring in something every now and then, but there are five of us to feed, and he can't furnish more than enough for himself. No, we must make a move at once, while we have the strength."
Rosa had not asked the source whence came the blessed food which was bringing the life blood back into her body, and although that food was not much—a little meal, a plantain, an occasional scrap of meat or fish—it had never occurred to her that the supply might be limited. She met the problem bravely, however.
"I have been close to death so long that it means little to me," she confessed. "I have you, and—well, with you at my side I can face the worst."
"Oh, we won't give up until we have to," he assured her. "If I had money it would be a simple proposition to bribe some guard to pass us through the lines, but I have spent all that General Betancourt gave me." He smoothed back Rosa's dark hair and smiled reassuringly at her. "Well, I'll manage somehow; so don't worry your pretty head. I'll find the price, if I have to waylay old Don Mario and rob him. Don't you think I look like a bandit? The very sight of me would terrify that fat rascal."
"To me you are beautiful," breathed the girl. Then she lowered her eyes. "La, la! How I spoil you! I have quite forgotten how to be ladylike. Isabel was right when she called me a bold and forward hussy. Now, then, please turn your face aside, for I wish to think, and so long as you look at me I cannot—I make love to you brazenly. See! Now, then, that is much better. I shall hold your hand, so. When I kiss it you may look at me again, for a moment." Drawing herself closer to O'Reilly, Rosa began thoughtfully: "Before you came I more than once was on the point of appealing to some of my former friends, but they are all Spaniards and we are no longer—simpatico, you understand?"
Rosa paused for his answer.
"Perfectly; I'm in the same fix. Of all the people I used to know there isn't one but would denounce me if I made myself known. Now that I've been fighting with the insurgents, I haven't even gone to the American consul for help—if there is an American consul."
Rosa nodded, then continued, hesitatingly: "I had a vivid dream last night. Perhaps it was a portent. Who knows? It was about that stepmother of mine. You remember how she met her death? I wrote you—"
"Yes, and Esteban also told me."
"It was he who recovered her body from the well. One day, while we were in hiding, away up yonder in the Yumuri, he showed me an old coin—"
"I know," O'Reilly said quickly. "He told me the whole story. He thinks that doubloon is a clue to your father's fortune, but—I can't put much faith in it. In fact, I didn't believe until this moment that there was a doubloon at all."
"Oh, indeed there was! I saw it!"
There was a moment of silence during which the lovers were oblivious to all but each other, then Rosa murmured: "How strange! Sometimes your eyes are blue and sometimes gray. Does that mean that your love, too, can change?"
"Certainly not. But come, what about Esteban and that doubloon?"
With an effort the girl brought herself back to earth. "Well, it occurred to me, in the light of that dream last night, that Esteban may have been right. Of course nobody outside of our family credits the old story, and yet my father was considered a very rich man at one time. Pancho Cueto believed in the existence of the treasure, and he was in a position to know."
"True! Perhaps, after all—"
O'Reilly frowned meditatively.
Rosa lifted herself upon her elbow, her eyes sparkling. "Wouldn't it be wonderful if it were true? Just think, O'Reilly, cases of Spanish gold, silver coins in casks, packages of gems. Oh, I've heard Isabel talk about it often enough."
"Don't forget those pearls from the Caribbean, as large as plums," Johnny smiled. "I could never quite swallow that. A pearl the size of a currant would buy our freedom right now."

After a moment he went on, more seriously: "I've a notion to look into that old well this very afternoon. I—I dare say I'm foolish, but—somehow the story doesn't sound so improbable as it did. Perhaps it is worth investigating—" He made up his mind swiftly. "I—I'm off this very instant."
When O'Reilly emerged from the hut he found Jacket industriously at work over a fragment of grindstone which he had somewhere unearthed. The boy looked up at his friend's approach and held out for inspection a long, thin file, which he was slowly shaping into a knife-blade.
"What do you think of that?" he queried proudly. "It may come in handy when we are ready to clear out of this pesthole."
"Where did you get it?"
"Oh, I stole it. I steal everything I can lay my hands on nowadays. One can never tell when he may have a throat to cut, and a file has good steel in it."
"Since you are such an accomplished thief, do you think you could steal something for me?" O'Reilly inquired. "A piece of rope?"
"Rope?" Jacket was puzzled. "Rope is only good for hanging Spaniards. My friend in the fish market has a volandra, and—perhaps I can rob him of a halyard." Laying aside his task, Jacket arose and made off in the direction of the water front. He was back within an hour, and under his shirt he carried a coil of worn but serviceable rope! Without waiting to explain his need for this unusual article, O'Reilly linked arms with the boy and set out to climb La Cumbre. When at last they stood in the unused quarry and Johnnie made known his intention to explore the old well, Jacket regarded him with undisguised amazement.
"What do you expect to find down there?" the latter inquired.
"To tell you the truth, I don't really expect to find anything," the man confessed. "Now that I'm here, I'm beginning to feel silly; nevertheless, I'm going to have a look for the hidden treasure of the Varonas."

"I'm Going to Have a Look for the Hidden Treasure."

"Hidden treasure!" From Jacket's expression it was plain that he feared his friend was mildly mad. Even after O'Reilly had told him something about old Don Esteban's missing riches, he scouted the story. He peeped inquisitively into the dark opening of the well, then he shook his head. "Caramba! What an idea! Was this old man crazy, to throw his money away?"
"He—he had more than he knew what to do with, and he wished to save it from the Spaniards," O'Reilly explained lamely.
"Humph! Nobody ever had more money than he wanted." The boy's disgust at such credulity was plain. "This well looks just like any other, only deeper; you'd better look out that you don't break your neck like that foolish old woman, that Donna What's-Her-Name."
O'Reilly did indeed feel that he was making himself ridiculous; nevertheless, he made the rope fast and swung himself down out of the sunlight, leaving Jacket to stand guard over him. Perhaps fifteen minutes later he reappeared, panting from his exertions. He was wet, slimy; his clothes were streaked and stained with mud.

DAILY HEALTH TALKS
Good Health Is in Your Own Hands

BY SAMUEL HAMILTON, M. D.
The man who said "People dig their graves with their teeth" uttered a truth that goes clear to the bottom of the health question. Suppose you should take everything you eat and drink for breakfast, everything you eat and drink for dinner, everything you eat and drink for supper, and mix all together in one mass. It would surely be a dreadful mixture to look upon. And yet your stomach is obliged to dispose of that unsightly mass each day! Is it any wonder so many people have indigestion, dyspepsia, backache, headache, bad blood, liver complaint, skin diseases, nervousness, coughs, colds, catarrh, bronchitis and goodness knows what else? Yes, people dig their graves with their teeth, and before the end comes they pass through one sickness or trouble after another. You should be glad to know that Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, has placed in the drug stores a medicine called Golden Medical Discovery that can be depended upon to overcome many of the diseases named above. It may seem impossible for one medicine to do so much, but really the whole thing is as simple as the figure 1. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery corrects the disordered conditions in a sick stomach, aids digestion, acts as a tonic and purifies the blood. When this is done, away go the diseases that are caused by a sick stomach. If you are digging your grave with your teeth, stop today. Correct your stomach disorders right now with Golden Medical Discovery, and henceforth eat for your health's sake. If you don't know what foods are best for you, write Dr. Pierce, Pres. Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive confidential medical advice without charge.
Golden Medical Discovery is made without alcohol or opiates, so anybody and everybody can take it with safety. It is put up both in liquid and tablet form. Send Dr. Pierce 10c for a trial pkg., and see for yourself how good it is. Try it—now.

Jacket began to laugh shrilly at his appearance.
"Ha! What a big lizard is this! Your beautiful garments are spoiled. And the treasure? Where is it?" The lad was delighted. He bent double with mirth; he slapped his bare legs and stamped his feet in glee.
O'Reilly grinned good-naturedly, and replaced the planks which had covered the orifice, then hid the rope in some nearby bushes. On their way back he endured his young friend's banter absent-mindedly, but as they neared Asensio's house he started Jacket by saying, "Can you manage to find a pickax or a crowbar?"
Jacket's eyes opened; he stopped in the middle of the dusty road. "What did you see down there, compadre? Tell me."
"Nothing much. Just enough to make me want to see more. Do you think you can steal some sort of a tool for me?"
"I can try."
"Please do. And remember, say nothing before Asensio or his wife."
Rosa met O'Reilly just inside the door, and at sight of her he uttered an exclamation of surprise, for during his absence she had removed the stain from her face and disfigured that disfigurement which Evangelina had fitted to her back prior to their departure from the Pan de Matanzas. She stood before him now, straight and slim and graceful—the Rosa of his dreams, only very thin, very fragile. Her poor tatters only enhanced her prettiness, so he thought.

Seymour Business College Night School Profit Sharing Plan

An Unparalleled Opportunity

WE are determined to make our night school the biggest, and keep it the best, in Southern Indiana. In order to do this we have decided upon a profit sharing plan for the term beginning March 1 and extending to August 1, which will greatly reduce the regular tuition fee of $25 for each student enrolling. It is the most liberal proposition that has ever been made to those who want a thorough business and commercial training.

How Profits Will Be Divided

We will share our profits with you by allowing one per cent. reduction in the regular tuition fee for each student up to twenty-five who enrolls. If twenty-five or more students enroll in the profit sharing class each will receive a twenty-five per cent. discount in tuition. If twenty enroll each will get a twenty per cent. discount, if eighteen enroll, eighteen per cent. discount will be given each, if fifteen enroll, fifteen per cent. discount, etc.

Special 5 Per Cent.

It is greatly to our advantage to know early how many will be enrolled in this night class so we can make arrangements in advance for class room preparations, so we go one step further and offer an extra five per cent. discount to the first twenty-five students who enroll.

This offer is open until 9 o'clock p. m. March 1, but it is expressly provided that it is withdrawn as soon as sixty students are enrolled regardless of the date. This means you must act at once. Be one of the first twenty-five.

HELP YOURSELF ADVANCE.

You have been thinking of preparing yourself for a business and commercial career. You know the limitless advantages it offers. You would be earning larger salary now if you had made a definite decision to train yourself for promotion. Decision is one of the fundamentals of successful business life. You cannot advance unless you make the step forward yourself. Failure to advance results more frequently from lack of decision than from lack of ability to hold a better job. Unless you decide to prepare yourself for larger opportunities you cannot take advantage of them when they come. Don't hold the check rein on yourself any longer. Let yourself move forward as you know you can. Do what your better judgment tells you that you can accomplish. Think this over seriously. If indecision has hampered your progress in the past become a man or woman of decision. You don't know what you can accomplish until you have tried. Successful advancement cannot come unless you make a determination to go after it and train yourself for the better position.

You make the decision to take the forward step and The Seymour Business College will train you.

Another special advantage of this course is that only $10 of the tuition charge is due when the class begins work March 3 and the balance is payable April 1, after the profit sharing dividends are figured up.

You have friends who have been thinking about taking a commercial training course. Bring them to our office. You can help them to get the benefit of the profit sharing dividends by increasing the enrollment and at the same time share in the increased discount yourself.
